Introduction

I'm Ahmed Tarek, a Performance Marketing Manager with 9+ years of experience in developing results-driven strategies and leading high-performing teams. I've worked with top brands across the MENA region, crafting bilingual content that connects with audiences and delivers measurable results. I'm passionate about turning creative ideas into engaging campaigns that drive real value and brand growth.

About Me

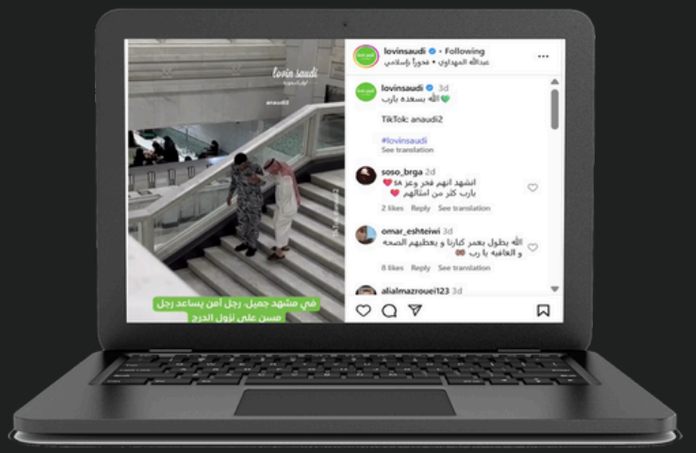

I don’t just write content—I design narratives that connect people with brands. Over the years, I’ve learned that great marketing isn’t about shouting louder, it’s about speaking smarter. That’s why I’ve dedicated my career to mastering content that blends creativity, clarity, strategy, and emotion. Whether it’s a seasonal campaign or a long-term brand story, I craft every piece with one goal: to make people care.

About Portfolio

This portfolio is a curated collection of my work as a marketer and content strategist over the past 9+ years. It showcases selected projects, campaigns, and content strategies I've developed across different industries and platforms. Whether you're looking for strategic thinking, creative content, or performance-driven campaigns, this portfolio offers a clear picture of how I bring value through marketing. Every piece here reflects my approach to storytelling, audience connection, and results-focused execution.

About Me

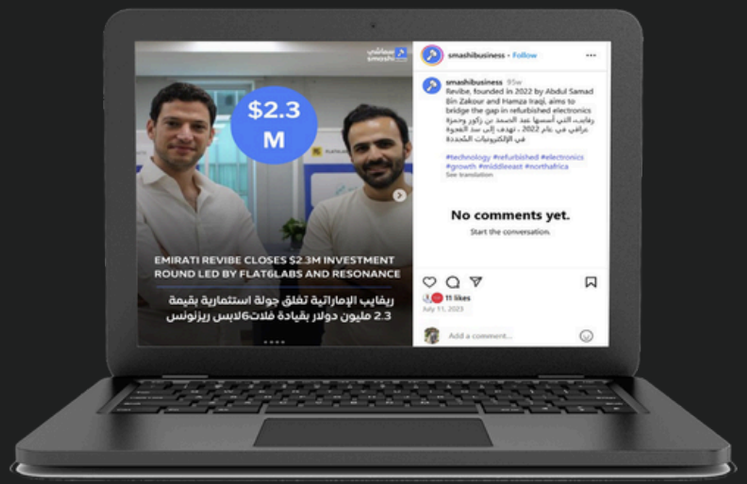

My Vision

I believe marketing is more than just visibility — it's about building meaningful connections that last. My vision is to create content and strategies that speak to people and stay with them. I aim to bridge the gap between business goals and audience needs by crafting authentic, data-informed and emotionally engaging campaigns. Through every project, I strive to make marketing less about selling and more about storytelling, value, and trust.

My Mission

My mission is to turn ideas into impact. I help brands communicate with clarity, creativity, and consistency through content that resonates and strategies that deliver. I strive to empower businesses to reach the right audience, tell their story authentically, and achieve measurable growth. Every project I take on is a step toward smarter, more human-centered marketing.

My Favorite Portfolio

Portfolio 01

At Augustus Media, I developed and executed a comprehensive social media strategy aimed at boosting brand awareness and engagement. I managed marketing for high-profile accounts across Dubai, Saudi Arabia, and Qatar — including Lovin Saudi and Lovin Dubai. I also led marketing initiatives for prominent sports organizations such as the Arab Basketball Federation, the UAE Handball Federation, and the Saudi Volleyball Federation. My role included managing social media accounts, creating engaging content, and launching impactful campaigns that significantly enhanced the company's online presence. Throughout, I worked closely with cross-functional teams to ensure our marketing efforts aligned with overall business objectives.

Portfolio 02

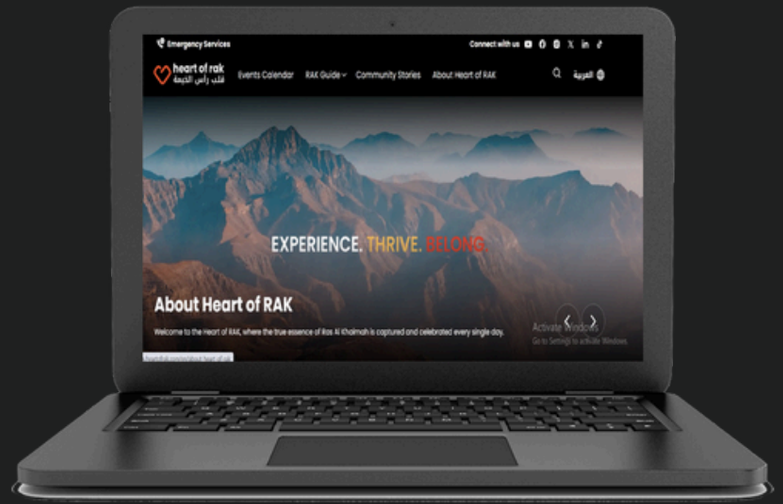

At Dubai Phone, I built and led a dedicated social media team from the ground up, focusing on creating engaging, platform-specific content tailored for the electronics retail audience. I developed a consistent brand voice and content strategy highlighting product features, promotions, and tech tips, helping grow the brand's online presence and drive customer engagement across Facebook, Instagram, and TikTok. My work improved audience interaction and strengthened brand recognition in a highly competitive market.

Portfolio 03

At Grinta, I led and developed content teams focused on strategic marketing initiatives aligned with business goals. One of my key responsibilities was managing the official Al-Ahly Sporting Club account, where I ensured the delivery of consistent, engaging content tailored to the club's audience. I was also responsible for editing and proofreading content to maintain quality and brand alignment. My role included conducting in-depth research, gathering insights to inform content strategies, and tracking performance metrics to optimize marketing efforts continuously. In addition, I focused on building and motivating high-performing teams capable of delivering impactful results under tight timelines.

Portfolio 04

I crafted the website copy for Heart of RAK, a bold fashion brand that blends modern streetwear with a rebellious edge. My work included writing and shaping the brand's core messaging across the homepage, collection pages, product descriptions, and About section. I focused on creating sharp, attitude-driven copy that reflects the brand's identity while ensuring clarity, consistency, and alignment with the customer's tone and lifestyle. The goal was to create an immersive brand experience that looks good and feels true to RAK.

The Economic Seerah

YouTube series with Dr. Basem Elewa · Concept, scripts & channel growth

I created the concept and content strategy for The Economic Seerah, a series that retells the economic lives of the Prophet's Companions through trade, deals and financial decisions. I wrote and developed the episode scripts, shaping each episode's angle, title and hook, and managed the channel's growth: YouTube SEO, thumbnails, publishing schedule and analytics.
